

Quizzical

-game show mania The Team Trivia quiz with a difference...This is a trivia night with a difference in which teams will be required to solve puzzles and riddles, use a bit of lateral thinking and draw on all their reserves of general knowledge in order to come out on top.

Everybody enjoys a trivia quiz and this is particularly true of our interactive game show. Phenomenally successful for any type of group, it can incorporate any required themes, shaping them around your requirements. Our game shows are a combination of all the best interactive participation games you've ever played — and one or two that you haven't!

This is ideal fun for evening entertainment, with something for everyone and definitely not designed to tax your participants in a serious manner. We have teams, building objects, such as the tallest tower from straws, guessing objects, picture round, music, history, who am I etc.

Perfect at a dinner or after work, any size group, anywhere, any location. We run many styles, the hilarious quiz show Game Show Mania, and its more physical Big Brother / Survivor versions...

Each team is given a name (your choices welcome) or a number and a captain is selected. A giant scoreboard displays points scored in each round and a running total for each team. Jokers are played for double points on each team's tactfully chosen round.

There are a number of different rounds to choose from, some of which can be designed specially for the occasion taking into account your corporate culture and the facilities and space available at your chosen venue.
