

Team Idol

Combines teambuilding and a musical song contest into a fantastic program of entertainment

Overview:

In this sensational team challenge program teams are required to choose, produce and sing from one of the great music classics. No one misses a beat in what turns out to be a hugely entertaining afternoon that concludes with an evening show where teams present their songs to standing ovations. Following on from the various TV programs, your teams are allocated time to prepare and rehearse their chosen song...but where would we be without costumes! Two popular options are to have the teams filmed, then screened back in the evening at dinner, or teams perform live on stage. Both include awards and prizes, plus a dvd post production of the teams performances.

To win this prestigious deal the commercial must be ground breaking and have the right angle in order to capture the hearts and mind of your audience.

Teams get to be highly creative in that there are roles for every one, with costumes and make up, props and tuition, teams get to develop their commercial in their own design.

The creative process...

- Following an open discussion on what it takes to make an effective commercial, training is given in camera operation and script writing
- Teams are then given their brief with some very funny and 'special twists'
- Teams collaborate, brainstorm, rehearse and perform their song
- Later that day the songs are performed in a fun and amusing show
- Teams can be given an opportunity to comment on the key aspects of the process with parallels being drawn to real workplace issues

Outcomes:

- Creatively take ownership of the conference theme and apply it to film
- Promote your company's products and work out what really matters through the eyes of your customer
- Collaborate and work in an inspirational learning environment
- Be bold and imaginative (think outside the square)
- Have a huge amount of personal satisfaction in seeing their creative effort recognized by their peers
- Be intellectually and physically engaged where there are roles for everyone

The beauty is that all can take part and no location is too hard. Team Idol can be run any day or night. We recommend minimum of 2 hours duration to get true outcomes, plus a night session in a private arena for awards and presentation. For more Information, call us on 1300226110
