

Sandology

Get the sand in-between your toes while working as a team

Sandsculpting combines the sand, the beach, the sun into a team building fun program. A team activity that highlights the creative side of your group, ideal as an icebreaker, a WOW factor or surprise, even as a finale to another Teambuilding Australia program, such as An Amazing Race...

Team Building Fun where you use sand and your hands to learn the art of Sand sculpting and build the most incredible sculptures you will ever see! Using sand and your hands you learn the art of Sand sculpting and learn to build the most incredible sculptures. See what your group can do with the guidance of a professional instructor, world renowned, a creation awaits that could be your companies brand, logo or product!

Experience sand sculpturing and create magnificent art, unique to your team and organization.

Ideal for any size group size, location ideal a beach, with time from 1 hour plus and perfect in a conference or an escape from work!

Program Highlights

When the group arrives at your beach location you will see an amazing sculptured piece of work as an example of this art form. Then slowly the group will learn the techniques of this art form. They are all easy to learn!

You will be blown away by what your group can do and it can be linked to your products or company logo or just about anything.

Receive guidance as they build and work together Incorporate a theme into the challenge and make it a competition.

A truly unique and creative team building fun experience where all can get involved and participant.

Video the group in action, plus a portrait photo is a fantastic addition to the board room or even company www!